SKOKI SKI LODGE
LE CHALET SKOKI

A rare and little-changed link with the early days of ski tourism, Skoki Ski Lodge is a fine example of the log building tradition long associated with the Banff region. When it opened for business in 1931, skiing was just emerging as a major form of winter recreation across Canada. Skoki was built as a destination for backcountry holidays by a group of ski enthusiasts, using timbers cut in the vicinity. It was the first such facility to operate on a commercial basis in Canada. It has changed its exterior appearance with additions carried out in 1935-1936.

Un lien unique des débuts de l'industrie touristique du ski, le chalet Skoki offre un bel exemple des bâtiments en rondins au Canada. Depuis le commencement des vacances d'hiver en 1931, le ski a commencé à être un des grands sports d'hiver les appréciés par un groupe d'enthousiastes du ski. C'est dans ce chalet Skoki que se trouve la première installation commerciale de ski au Canada. Il a subi des changements extérieurs au cours de ses années 1935-1936.
